

Committee: UNICEF

Topic: Child Trafficking in Third World Countries

Country: Congo

Delegate: Ceyda Kılıç

Introduction:

As the Republic of Congo, we are a country rich in copper, gold, silver and oil in Central Africa. Although we have a brutal political background, we are trying to do our best to stop human trafficking. However, no country in the world understands that this is a real problem. We see a lot of news about child trafficking that has escalated in Europe recently.

The problem of not only third world countries but also the whole world is child and human trafficking. More awareness is needed around the world to combat this problem. No matter how many of our children are employed or used as soldiers, we are ready to take important steps with the help of UNICEF. We are always ready to enact new laws and save our children, our future, our country.

We see a lot of news about child trafficking that has escalated in Europe recently. The problem of not only third world countries but also the whole world is child and human trafficking. While there is some progress we have made, there is much more to be done. Greater awareness is required around the world to combat this problem.
