

Committee: DISEC

Country: Mexico

Topic: Nuclear Disarmament

I. Introduction

Mexico, dedicated to fostering global peace and security, recognizes the urgency of nuclear disarmament in the contemporary international landscape. As a nation deeply committed to multilateralism and diplomacy, Mexico underscores the imperative of concerted action to address the proliferation of nuclear weapons and mitigate the existential threats they pose to humanity.

III. Mexico's Approach

1. Multilateralism: Mexico firmly believes in the indispensability of multilateralism in addressing complex global challenges. As such, Mexico advocates for the revitalization of multilateral disarmament forums, including the Conference on Disarmament, as platforms for constructive dialogue and cooperation among states.
2. Upholding Treaties: Mexico emphasizes the importance of upholding and strengthening existing arms control agreements, such as the New START Treaty, as crucial instruments for nuclear risk reduction and strategic stability. Mexico calls upon all states to honor their commitments under these treaties and explore avenues for further arms control negotiations.
3. Nuclear-Weapon-Free Zones: Mexico applauds the establishment of nuclear-weapon-free zones as concrete steps towards nuclear disarmament and regional security. Mexico supports efforts to expand the coverage of such zones and encourages regional initiatives aimed at promoting disarmament, non-proliferation, and confidence-building measures.
4. Education and Awareness: Mexico recognizes the critical role of education and public awareness in promoting a culture of peace and disarmament. Mexico supports initiatives to enhance nuclear disarmament education at all levels of society and encourages civil society engagement in disarmament efforts.

IV. Conclusion

In conclusion, Mexico reaffirms its unwavering commitment to nuclear disarmament as a fundamental prerequisite for global peace and security. Mexico calls upon all states to demonstrate political will and engage constructively in disarmament negotiations, guided by the principles of cooperation, transparency, and mutual security. By working together, the international community can overcome the formidable challenges posed by nuclear proliferation and pave the way for a world free of nuclear weapons, ensuring a safer and more prosperous future for all.