

Committee: JCC – Spain 1936

Position: Ramón Serrano Suñer, National Front

Country/Bloc: Spain (Right Wing)

Background: Spain is facing deep political division after the 1936 elections. The Popular Front won by a small margin, and the country quickly entered chaos. Farmers are hungry, strikes spread in the cities, and violence between political groups grows every day. The government cannot control the streets, and many regions demand autonomy. Spain is losing stability, unity, and faith — the core of our nation.

Character Background and Stance: Ramón Serrano Suñer is a leading intellectual and statesman of the National Front. As a lawyer and conservative politician, he believes in the protection of Catholic values, national unity, and strong authority. Suñer opposes communism, anarchism, and any movement that threatens Spain's traditions. He supports Franco and shares the belief that only discipline and order can save Spain from collapse. For Suñer, Spain must remain one nation under God, with the Church, the army, and loyal citizens working together.

Proposed Actions: As a representative of the National Front, I aim to restore stability and protect the foundations of Spain. My priorities are: ensuring food security for farmers, defending the Church from attacks, and rebuilding discipline in the military. I plan to work with loyal officers, regional leaders, and local communities to stop violence and prevent further division. Spain can only survive through unity, faith, and strong leadership.
